WORLD WATER WEEK

World Water Week in Stockholm is an annual event, organised by Stockholm International Water Institute (SIWI), which attracts scientists, decision-makers, international organisations, NGOs, students and companies working with water and development. The theme for 2014 is "Energy and Water".

HOW TO GET INVOLVED

World Water Week in Stockholm has approximately 2,500 participants from over 125 countries and more than 180 organisations who arranged seminars, side events and workshops.

To be able to handle all the World Water Week sessions (including award ceremonies) we need enthusiastic and responsible assistants who will act as hosts/hostesses and be the face of SIWI during the week.

As a World Water Week Assistant you will be at the center of academics with great possibilities for networking, gathering information about the latest innovations and practices as well as the opportunity to contribute to the international water and development discussion and gain professional work experience.

You will get free access to the conference, lunches, and the possibility to join most of the social events.

Unfortunately we are not able to give you any economic compensation or arrange any kind of travel or accommodation.
